St. Petersburg, Oct. 13.-In the midst of anxiety and suspease involved in the great fight south of Mukden, come: also the first word in many days from the defenders of Port Arthur. While General Stoessel's report of the condi tion of affairs at Pert Arthur is no later than October 7, it shows that the Mikado's Forces Place Batteries of garrison at that time was in unim paired spirits making a heroic defense against a series of the most bitter assaults in all the history of sieges.

Closeness of Fighting.

The closeness of the fighting, and the deadly character of the attacks and counter attacks are shown by the facthat both sides are using hand grenages, and that the Japanese, after a bloody capture of Signal Station Hill. were unable to hold the position in the face of the fire from the fortress. The repeated failure of the Japanese to hold a footing once gained in the circle of inner forts is received with considsicill with which the defenses of Port Arthur were arranged, the main line of forts suporting each other so as to ese occupied Signal Hill. At daylight render any one position almost certainly natenable, even if temporarily captured by an enemy. But the reckless ferocity of the assaults by an overwhelming force of Japanese seem to make it certain that Port Arthur can e held by an immense expendithre of ammunition, and it is becoming a serious auestion with the authorities how long even the great supply known to exist in the fortress can last in the face of the Japanese attacks,

Mortars in Position. The most serious feature of General Stoessel's report from a strategical point of view is the fact that the Jap-
